

~Now Presenting ~ Bird Watching at
Humboldt Botanical Garden

Saturday, July 13th
8:00am-10:00am
Guide: Dan Greaney

In the second of a monthly series, Dan will be leading participants on a bird walk through the Garden, which is a regular attraction of many of the birds of Northern California.

You will need to click the link again on the page that opens.

SPACE IS LIMITED

Dan Greaney has led numerous natural history and bird walks, most recently for the Shasta Birding Society and Redwood Region Audubon. He is the author of BirdWords from Blue Oak Country, a collection of essays on how birds live and live with us. Now he is retired from his teaching career but not, he hopes, from teaching and learning.

7707 Tompkins Hill Rd • 707-442-5139 • www.hbgbf.org